NEW HORMONES FOR STARTING AND TRANSPLANTING SEEDS, BULBS, PLANTS & TREES

ROOTONE

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

This is a new hormone plant powder. It is a root-forming stimulant when applied to cuttings, seeds, or bulbs. Being a powder it gets its root-forming activity from the synthetic hormones or growth substances which it contains. It is very easy to use; simply dust on the seeds, bulbs, or cuttings and the most sluggish seeds, like those of perennials, are accelerated in growth and produce healthier root systems. This means healthier plants, more rapid growth, and earlier development. Full directions with each order.

½-oz pkt 25c. 2-oz jar $1.00. 1b can $5.00. Postpaid.

This is vitamin hormone stimulant for plants. It invigorates old roots, multiplies new roots, and reduces wilting and loss on transplants. Transplantone is a water-soluble powder containing Vitamin B-1 and other parts of the vitamin B fractions, plus certain plant hormones which are active in root formation. These chemicals are very vital to the growth of plants, particularly of roots. Plants respond to an extra supply of "growth factors" such as those in Transplantone. Simple to use, full directions with each order.

TRANSPLANTONE

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Simple to use, full directions with each order. ½-oz pkg 25c. 3-oz can $1.00. 1b can $4.60. Postpaid.

Gatton Field at Montana State College, Bozeman, showing fine turf from our Rocky Mountain Grass Seed. Rocky Mountain Conference Coaches are high in their praise of this fine turf.

FRUITONE

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

FRUITONE is a powder containing several plant hormones. It was first produced for stopping the pre-harvest drop of apples, but it has since been found effective in keeping various kinds of flowers, leaves and other fruits on the tree or plant longer. The effectiveness of these hormones in stopping apple drop was shown by the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. The flowers sprayed with Fruitone gives beans, alfalfa, clover, flax, corn, etc., better set of pods especially in bad weather, increases crop 30% to 50%. 2/5-oz pkg 25c. 2-oz can $1.00. 12-oz can $5.00. Postpaid.

Keep the pods picked and the vines well watered and the Beans will continue bearing much longer.

ASPARAGUS, BEETS, BROCCOLI, CHARD

PLANT BEETS AND CHARD FOR GREENS

HOW TO PLANT—The soil should be rich and deeply plowed. Sow in rows 14 to 20 inches apart and about 1 to 1¼ inches deep. As soon as the plants have the fifth and sixth leaf, thin to one plant each 3 inches apart. Then irrigate. Cultivate often and do not water again until absolutely necessary as the soil will dry from the surface down and the top roots will follow. Cultivate once a week for best results. Keep clean and remember that cultivation is the next thing necessary after the best seeds and the two are necessary for success. (One ounce to 100 feet of drill, 5 to 6 lbs. per acre, in drills; 15 to 20 lbs. to the acre broadcast.)

ASPARAGUS

1 oz. to 50 feet of drill—5 lbs. to the acre

Asparagus

Sow early in the Spring in drills 2 inches deep and 12 inches apart if to be cultivated by hand. When the plants are one or two years old transplant to rows 5 feet apart, and 18 inches apart in the row. Cover the soil 4 to 6 inches deep with well rotted manure and disc well—then plow as deep as possible and harrow. Turn furrows 5 feet apart, about 6 inches deep. Place plants in rows about 18 inches apart, with roots well spread out. Turn a light furrow back over them and level by cross harrowing.

MARY WASHINGTON—Rustproof—A heavy yielder, producing an abundance of early large, clean, long, straight shoots of rich dark green color with tightly folded tips of fine flavor. Highly resistant to Asparagus Rust.

Pkt 10c. oz 20c. ¼ lb 60c. ½ lb $1.00. 1b $1.75.

ASPARAGUS—PARADISE

Growers say it produces twice the crop of ordinary Asparagus. This variety is rust resistant. It retains its fresh flavor. It brings returns one year earlier than other varieties and because of its size, large crop and fine, mild flavor, this NEW VARIETY will quickly supercede all others. A new, better variety that will take the country by storm. An excellent variety for home gardens and market gardeners.

Pkt 15c. ½ oz 45c. oz 70c. ¼ lb $2.00.

MANGEL WURZEL

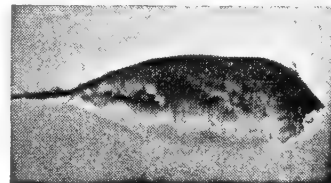

6 pounds per acre in drills.

A cheap, heavy yielding, highly valuable feed for stock and poultry.

Root crops are a great necessity for all kinds of stock, also chickens. Root feeding gives tissue building substance, keeping the digestive organs in a healthy condition. Root crops should be regularly fed to all stock. Results will show in increased weight, and will enrich and increase the milk. The ground should be thoroughly prepared, and made firm and mellow. Sow 5 to 6 lbs. to the acre in April and May in drills 2 to 3 feet apart. When 4 to 5 inches high thin to 12 to 15 inches apart.

MAMMOTH LONG RED—This variety produces the largest yield of any kind of Mangel. The quality of the roots for feeding is high. The roots grow very large and keep well. They are quite long, light red in color and grow well out of the ground so are easily harvested. 100 days.

SWEET CORN

"SWEET CORN PICKED FRESH IS MIGHTY GOOD"

THE SIX BEST VARIETIES OF SWEET CORN FOR MONTANA AND THE NORTHWEST

Sweet Corn is very sensitive to frost and should not be planted until danger from freezing is past or about the middle of May in Montana. A rich, warm, good ordinary soil will raise excellent Sweet Corn, if it is deeply and thoroughly worked before planting. If planted in rows, make the rows three feet apart and 12 to 16 inches apart in the row; cover one inch deep with fine soil firmly pressed down. If planted in hills, make the hills three feet apart each way, and plant four to six kernels to the hill. When six inches high cut off all the suckers so as to leave three or four plants to the hill; do not let the plants overcrowd. Give frequent and thorough but shallow cultivation until the tassels appear.

EVERY GARDEN CAN GROW THIS FINEST OF HEALTH FOODS

($\frac{1}{4}$ -ounce to 100 feet of drill—3 pounds to the acre)

CULTURE—For the earliest Lettuce sow seed of the loose leaved varieties. Sow thinly and when the young seedlings are large enough for the table they may be thinned as used. In this way space is provided for normal growth. For succession sow every two weeks.

The conditions necessary to grow good Head Lettuce are rich soil, plenty of moisture, and steady growth until the heads are ready to use. A check in growth from lack of nourishment or moisture usually means no heads. Seed may be sown in boxes indoors or in the hotbed and set out as soon as favorable. Do not cover seed more than $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch deep. The plants should be thinned to 10 inches apart in the row, a light application of fertilizer such as nitrate of soda used after the plants have made some growth will be found beneficial. All our varieties of Lettuce are excellent for the home garden.

HEADING VARIETIES

CULTURE—A rich, deep sandy loam, well worked and highly manured with old rotten compost, is of the first importance. Plant when all danger of frost is over, in hills 5 to 6 feet apart each way; scatter a dozen seeds to a hill and thin to 3 or 4 plants. When they have 4 or 5 rough leaves pinch off the end of the main shoot, which will cause the later branches to put forth fruit sooner.

The hills should be dug about 2 feet square, 2 inches deep and half filled with well-rotted fertilizer, which must be thoroughly mixed with the soil. Plant in May, 10 seeds to a hill, and when the plants are well up, thin out to three, and pinch the ends of the growing shoots to induce early fruiting. Some of the sweetest and best Melons we have seen were produced in the latitude of 45 degrees north; consequently, while the Watermelon is a tropical fruit, yet our Northern friends can grow them successfully.

Pkt 10c. oz 25c. ¼ lb 75c. lb $2.50.

FORDHOOK EARLY—One of the earliest large-fruited Melons. Fruits are of good size. Skin dark green, with faint stripes of lighter green. S. N. & S. Co's. TENDER GREEN PEAS

"THEY MELT IN YOUR MOUTH"

(1 pound to 100 feet of drill—80 to 100 pounds to the acre)

Peas are quite hardy and for early crop sow as soon as the ground can be worked. Then sow them in succession every two weeks until the first of August. They require moderately rich soil but not excessively rich or wet, or they will run too much to vine and will not bear heavily. The dwarf varieties can be planted in rows 12 to 18 inches apart, and the tall varieties 3 feet apart. The tall varieties should be staked by brush or tied up. By using the various classes of Peas and making several sowings of each, good Peas can be had for a long season. The pods should be kept picked; the plant will then continue to bear longer. For late sowing, use Early Dwarf varieties.

Do You Know this Secret . . .

Do you know how to avoid the usual disappointment of a poor Pea crop after mid-July? It is easy to get a big crop of juicy Peas even up to late August. Instead of planting at two- or three-week intervals get the following varieties and plant all at the same time in early Spring. This will allow a good root system to develop before hot weather comes. The varieties will bear in the order shown to late August.

ROSELLE—"ANNUAL CURRANT JELLY PLANT"

Make delicious jelly from the leaves and branches of this wonderful new plant. The calyx surrounding the seed pod is used for making jelly and jam, considered by many to be superior to Guava or Currant Jelly. It is grown extensively in Australia and the Famous Queensland jelly is shipped to all parts of the world. After the flower petals fall, remove calyxes from seed pods. To four solid quarts of calyxes add 1 quart of cold water, boil until tender.

Strain through cheese cloth, but do not squeeze. Measure an equal number of cups of sugar, which should be placed in the oven to heat. Boil the juice 20 minutes, add the hot sugar, boil 3 minutes, strain once more into glasses. Sow early in April in sunny location where the plants are to remain, in rows 4 ft. apart and thin to 2 ft. in the row. Cook like string beans.

NEW GUINEA BUTTER BEAN

New Guinea Butter Bean Pkt 10c. oz 25c.

EDIBLE GOURD —
One of the Most Delicious of All Vegetables

The New Guinea Butter Bean is a wonderful vegetable. Grows to enormous size, one fruit often weighing 15 lbs., and from 3 to 5 feet long. In growth it is similar to the squash, and can be grown in the same manner or can be trellised up. It is more productive than squash and much easier to grow. The vines are always free from disease and insect pests, and stand more neglect and abuse than any other vegetable vine we know of. The fruits should be eaten when small, while the fuzzy growth is yet on. It can be cooked and served like squash. When cut up in small pieces and cooked with cream or fried it is most delicious. If trellised up the vines take up so little space, no garden is too small for at least two or three plants.

Do not cut Rhubarb; pull it so that it comes out whole from the crown.

A SHORT STORY ABOUT OUR FRUIT TREES

First: They will grow and live longer, stand severe cold and dry climate conditions better than any other Fruit Trees money can buy.

Second: It is made possible to grow trees of such hardiness and stupendous size only by our propagation system. Our one- and two-year-old Trees are larger and better proportioned than any Fruit Trees produced in the Northwest. We have never found a sign of root knot or crown gall in our Fruit Trees. We have a typical system of our own in producing these hardier high bearing and high vitality Fruit Trees.

W. J. Mills, left, and "Tip" Tippen, our Nursery Superintendent and chief tree and shrub propagator, look over a dormant field run display of our Apple Tree grades. Four trees on right are one-year-olds. Ask for prices on one-year-old stock. Our Apple prices are down. Plant Apples now.

WINTERING ROSES. After several good heavy frosts or in November bundle the branches together, cut them back to about 18 to 20 inches, mound earth around the plants up to 6 or 8 inches, or higher if practical. Later on, when the ground is frozen, add a covering* of straw or cornstalks to keep the ground frozen and as a protection against sun and wind. In the Spring, remove covering a little at a time and finally level the soil when danger of hard Spring frost is past.

Climbers winter well if taken down from their support and laid flat on the ground. Mulch as above.
